

LABOR PARTY DEMANDS REMOVAL OF BURLESON

New Organization, in Convention, Plays Postmaster-General
for His Actions.

WOULD HALT PROFITEERING

Platform Declares It Will Free Government From Control of Big Business—All Workers Are Members of Political Body.

[By Associated Press.]
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 12.—Removal from office of Postmaster-General Burleson "because of his alleged reactionary attitude toward labor, free speech and a free press" was demanded in resolutions adopted today by the convention of the Labor party of Illinois.

The convention, by resolution, also denounced Harold P. McCormick, of the International Harvester Company, who was accused of employing convalescing soldiers from Fort Sheridan on his Lake Forest estate to break a strike of landscape gardeners, and asked for an investigation by the War Department.

Indorsement was given by the new party to "a league of nations which will protect the peace which has been won."

Issues Statement and Platform.

The Labor party today issued a statement and platform, of which the following are the principal features:

1. Labor is the primary and just basis of political responsibility and power. It is not merely the right, but the duty of the workers, by hand or brain, to become a political party.

2. The Labor party is devoted to usher in the new day of freedom in the United States—freedom from the grind of poverty, freedom from the ownership of government by big business, freedom from the slave-driving of workers by profits and the duties of men and women who buy food and clothing and pay rent from exploitation at the hands of the money kings of America.

3. All Workers Are Members.

Organized workers are members of it. Unorganized workers are members of it. Clerical, household, newspaper, men, farmers, school teachers, storekeepers belong to it. Such heads of organizations and business concerns as are not exploiters or profiteers belong to it. There is no place in the party for those who are parasites. There is no room within it for all who perform service to society.

4. The Labor party is organized to assemble into a new majority the men and women who work, but who have been scattered as helpless minorities in the old parties under the leadership of the confidence men of big business.

Hence the organization of the Labor party.

Enunciate Its Principles.

The first convention of the new State party enunciates the following principles:

1. Democratic control of industry and commerce for the benefit of the people who work with hand and brain and the elimination of autocratic domination of the forces of production and distribution by a few.

2. Freedom from economic hazard which comes with a minimum wage, based upon the cost of living and the needs of the workers.

3. Without the labor of mothers and children, himself and his family in health and vigor.

4. A maximum working day of eight hours and maximum wage of $10.00 per week.

5. Abolition of child labor.

6. Abolition of unemployment by retraining of workers.

7. Public ownership of the railroads, the mines and in the meantime self insurance for the workers.

8. Public ownership of the means of production and distribution.

9. Would Not Tax Improvements.

10. Abolition of the right of living to a large extent by the development of a new system of taxation.

11. Abolition of the right of living to a large extent by the development of a new system of taxation.

12. Abolition of the right of living to a large extent by the development of a new system of taxation.

13. Abolition of the right of living to a large extent by the development of a new system of taxation.

14. Abolition of the right of living to a large extent by the development of a new system of taxation.

15. Abolition of the right of living to a large extent by the development of a new system of taxation.

16. Abolition of the right of living to a large extent by the development of a new system of taxation.

17. Abolition of the right of living to a large extent by the development of a new system of taxation.

18. Abolition of the right of living to a large extent by the development of a new system of taxation.
